

SWEET LAND

One hot windy day there was a teenager and a 9 year old. Their names were Rob and Paige who were at the silent skate park. Paige was 6 years older than Rob and loved cycling and doing tricks, However Rob hated cycling he mostly enjoyed scootering. Over in an unknown valley it was raining.

“Do you think there will be a rainbow?” questioned Rob.

“Yeah most likely” replied Paige.

The pair continued shredding when suddenly out of the blue a rainbow appeared right in front of their eyes. Paige decided she would go in there. So she went in there. WHOOSH up and up and up then down and down and down into a colourful land of SWEETS. Paige was amazed. How could this happen? Paige took one bite then all of a sudden a green fluffy monster came cycling past.

“Don’t eat that!!!” screamed the monster.

“Why?”

“Because its precious” replied the monster. “Plus were are you from?”

“ I am from the over valley”

“Well you better get back”

“OK”

So Paige went back into the rainbow and poof she was back at the skate park.
