

Tarka Class - Home learning week ending 11th November

The children have enjoyed been authors this week! Using our English text as inspiration, Tarka class started to write their own books about their feelings.

In art, we learned about primary and secondary colours, mixed primary to make secondary colours and painted them onto a colour wheel.

We continued our learning about The Great Fire of London and sequenced the most important parts of the event.

The children started practising singing our nativity songs with Codden class. They are excited about the roles they are playing in the performance!

Home learning: Decorate a poppy for Remembrance Day (see printed template in book bag). You can use colouring pencils, crayons, pastels, paint, collage, glitter... anything you like. Bring your poppy back into school next week and we will use them to make a class wreath.

Reading: Remember to keep up with your reading over half term. You can read your guided reading book or share storybooks that you have at home.

Have a great weekend 😊
